

HIS FIRST RUN PROVED FATAL

Thomas Davis, a Janesville Railroad Man, Was Killed Yesterday.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

In Collision on the Chicago & Northwestern Road Near Norwalk.

POPULAR YOUNG MAN

At almost the same instant when Fred Ahlgrim met his death in this city, another Janesville employe of the North-Western road has his life crushed out at Norwalk, about forty miles this side of La Crosse. Thomas Davis was given his first run as fireman on a double header freight out of Kendall yesterday morning, and it proved to be his last. Before he had gone 20 miles, the train collided head-on with a freight coming down a heavy grade around a curve expecting to find a clear track. Davis was jammed in between the cab and tender and instantly killed.

Went to Baraboo
Davis had been in this city for about a year past, living at the Janesville house. For a time he was employed in the round house and then he went to work with John Welch's gang on the interurban cutting board on the Choate-Hollister factory. He had been wishing for some time to get a position at actual railroad work, and about ten days ago he received word from Baraboo that there might be an opening for him in that city. He immediately left, but was given no run until yesterday. He had been allowed to try his hand at firing around the yard, until he had a general idea of the work required in that position.

First Run
Wednesday morning Davis was given his first call for work. The work began at Kendall on a heavy north-bound double-header. A south-bound freight had been ordered to sidetrack at Norwalk to allow the train on which Davis was firing to pass. On reaching the station the air brakes were applied but failed to work, and the train got beyond control.

Train Beyond Control
All the trainmen tried to set the handbrakes but before the train could be brought to a standstill, the train had run on past the station, and around the curve into the heavy double-header which was coming around the curve expecting a clear track. It was evident to the men in the three engines that the collision was inevitable, and they started to jump before the locomotives met. Davis started to jump on the south side, but saw a high bank and a creek on that side so he turned to run across to the other. Just at this time the trains came together with terrific force, and Davis was caught where he was, the cab and tender being jammed together until there was only a couple of inches between them.

No Other Injuries
All three engines were utterly demolished, and twenty-four cars were dented. No one besides Davis received any injuries. The accident occurred shortly after seven o'clock in the morning. The crushed and bruised body was taken into the station, and held until a jury could be impaneled for the inquest. The coroner called his men together, and returned a verdict of accidental death.

Has Relatives Here
Thomas James of Chatham street, and Mrs. B. Spence of Pleasant street are both relatives of the young man, who was about twenty-six years of age. He was unmarried and had no immediate relatives in this country. About five years ago he came to Wisconsin from his home in Breckenshire, South Wales, and his parents still live there. He had many relatives at Waukesha, and at Wales in this state, and the remains will be taken from Norwalk to one of those places, it has not yet been decided which.

Highly Thought Of
His acquaintances speak most highly of him, as a genial young fellow of a frugal and industrious disposition. He had bought himself a small farm in Wood county and had lived on it one year. In addition to that he had saved a considerable sum of money.

These restrictions having been removed and representation given organized labor as well as unorganized capital, I am now prepared to give personal approval to the settlement of the issues involved in this strike by the commission selected by the president."

A representative body of delegates from the Conservative associations has now accepted the resolution presented by him embodying the principle that new sources of revenue can be found by taking articles competing with home trade and urging the government to carry out the policy of preferential trade between all parts of the British empire.

PARTY WAS MOST BRILLIANT ONE

MR. AND MRS. A. E. MATHESON
ENTERTAIN CHARMINGLY.

GAVE RECEPTION AND DANCE

Central Hall Was the Scene of a Pleasant Gathering of Jansville's Representative People.

Brilliantly, indeed, was this year's social season opened last evening, the occasion being the large reception and dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander E. Matheson at Central hall. No company of people ever more thoroughly represented the culture of the city than the one of last evening and Mr. and Mrs. Matheson enjoyed the privilege of entertaining the best of Jansville as their guests.

It was one of the prettiest and most successful private parties ever given in the city. Over five hundred invitations had been issued and at least three hundred and fifty people enjoyed the pleasure of sharing in the hospitality so lavishly extended by the gracious host and hostess.

Cordial Welcome
Mr. and Mrs. Matheson received their guests in the southwest corner of the dance hall, near the entrance to the ladies' reception room. The cordial word with which each guest was greeted established at once the spirit of informal and genuine sociability, which was a delightful and distinctive feature of the occasion. Mrs. Matheson looked especially charming in a simple and very becoming gown of pink silk. She wore pink roses in her hair.

Artistic Decorations
The reception corner was effectively decorated with costly oriental rugs and draperies, being further beautified by an immense bunch of great pink chrysanthemums. Potted palms were placed at intervals around the dance hall, the decorative plants standing on the steam radiators which were artistically concealed beneath handsome rugs. Oriental cushions in abundance were scattered around the hall on the hard wood benches and cozy corners with easy chairs and cushions made attractive retreats. The orchestra balcony was especially beautiful with festoons of autumn foliage and vines in brilliant colors.

Gracious Hospitality
Mr. and Mrs. Matheson are royal entertainers. Although their guests included many who do not dance, pleasure was provided for all in the informal reception with which the evening opened and which continued long after the dancing began. For nearly two hours Smith's orchestra of seven pieces played concert selections, the program being one of unusual excellence and being especially enjoyed by the company.

Dancing Began
Then the music drifted into rhythmic dance time and soon the floor was filled with the graceful gliding figures of handsomely gowned women and their escorts in the conventional black and white of last evening dress. Both Mr. and Mrs. Matheson devoted the entire evening to personally looking after the pleasure of their guests and it was largely due to their graceful tact that their party was so distinctive a success.

Choice Refreshments
Frape was served informally in the dance hall and during the entire evening delicious refreshments were served in buffet style in the Calceonian rooms on the second floor. The decorations in these rooms have just been finished and the rooms make very handsome parlors with the dull black wood work and tapestry wall decorations.

The serving table was handsomely decorated with vines and American Beauty roses. Caterer George Shurtliff, assisted by his daughter, with several waitresses under their supervision had charge of the refreshments which were dainty and appetizing.

Goodnights Said Reluctantly
So charmingly did Mr. and Mrs. Matheson entertain and so cordially did they use kindly effort to prolong the pleasure of their guests that it was two o'clock this morning before many of the guests came to the realization that good nights must be said and that the party must be allowed to become a cherished memory instead of a delightful reality.

Floor Committee
Mr. and Mrs. Matheson were assisted in caring for the pleasure of the dancers by W. W. Watt, George H. Sale, George O. Buchholz and Edward H. Peterson, who took entire charge of the floor and of the dancing program. A liberal number of square dances, interspersed with the waltzes, two-steps and reuouws, insured pleasure for all.

JUNIORS DEFEAT THE FRESHMEN

High School Boys Struggle on the Gridiron for Class Supremacy.

Fumbling was the feature of the football game at Athletic park Wednesday afternoon. The contesting teams were the High school Freshmen and Juniors who had met the week before and played a game to the tune of 5 to 5. At the end of yesterday's game the score was the same as it had been the week before but the play was continued until one more touchdown was made. The Juniors were the successful team and the contest was theirs by a score of 10 to 5.

Ball Too Slippery
A greased sphere would not have presented more difficulties to the high school players, than the leather oval seemed to yesterday, and in the first half the ball was dropped at every critical point in the play. Toward the end of the game the two elevens sobered down to playing the game and several times some brilliant advances were made by both teams. In the three minutes of play after the allotted time of the game had been called, both elevens were in for blood, and the boys settled down to the fight like veterans. Locke, who had made the first touchdown for the Juniors, took the ball over the line for the winning play.

Clithero made the touchdown for the lower classmen, and Whiton and Davis also figured in several good gains for the Freshmen. Hogan's habit of walking through the Freshman line netted several substantial gains for the Juniors and Fardy and Locke both played a consistent game.

To Decide Tie
It was decided that the tie must be played off this time, if it should be necessary to keep it all night, and so an agreement was made that in case a tie resulted, at the expiration of the time of play, the game should be continued until one team or the other made an additional score. The next game in the Denison cup series will be played a week from yesterday on the same grounds. The contestants will be the winners of this game, and the Seniors, who have yet to play their first game.

Lived in the Past
Reminiscences of bygone days filled in pleasantly and yesterday the veterans who found joy in touching elbows again were living once more in the stirring days of '61. The bond which holds the old soldiers together draws them closer as the ranks thin and the memories of yesterday will be sacred to all those who clasped hands with their comrades once more.

The reunion was especially honored by the large attendance of officers as well as by the large representation from each company. The following is the roster of those who were present:

HON. C. H. HAMILTON TO LECTURE HERE

Will Tell of the Glories of King Edward's Coronation Ceremonies in London.

Probably no event of recent years was more suited to a lecturer's purpose than the coronation of Edward, the Seventh, in London, on August 9th, last; probably no event has aroused greater public interest and from which the public was to be almost entirely excluded. However, a lecture, fully illustrated, will be given in this city in November entitled: "London and the Coronation."

Hon. Charles H. Hamilton, of Milwaukee, was fortunate enough to be among "those present" and he will describe from the vantage point of an eye witness all the magnificent details of the ceremony. The lecture will have great educational value as well as interest, because such a truly royal ceremonial may never occur again in our time.

While the subject deals chiefly with the coronation itself, other trips are described and illustrated, among them being Oxford, Stratford, Hadden Hall and Kennilworth; "Dickens' London" will also be reproduced and many other ever fascinating features of the great metropolis itself.

Mr. Hamilton's initial tour promises a great success, the lecturer being equipped, as is well-known, with particular talent for description and platform speaking. "London and the Coronation" will be given in this city next month. Mr. Hamilton speaks at the Myers Grand on Nov. 19.

Miss Ella C. Schroeder who has the most aristocratic patronage of any one of her profession, briefly describes her wonderful success with this great Hair Tonic in the following letter:

THE KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., 154 Lake St., Chicago.

Gentlemen:—It is with pleasure that I give you testimonial as to the merits of DANDERINE which I am using every day in my practice. I have not had a case where DANDERINE has failed to cure dandruff and falling hair and to start a luxuriant growth, even under the most trying conditions. In some cases of long standing, results have been perfectly astonishing to both my patients and myself. I have over a hundred persons whom I am treating regularly, and there is not one but who is enthusiastic over the wonderful worth of DANDERINE. At the Chicago Beach Hotel, where I spend a great deal of time I have a large number of clients who are using DANDERINE regularly, with the most delightful results. From my experience with DANDERINE, in several hundred cases, I feel that I cannot recommend it too highly.

With sincere wishes for your unbounded success, I remain, Yours respectfully,

Ella C. Schroeder
 Hair Dresser and Specialist, 498 E. 47th St., Chicago

Danderine does the work; that is the reason why there is MORE OF IT USED THAN ALL OTHER HAIR TONICS COMBINED.

DANDERINE is absorbed most eagerly by the scalp, and its properties are so invigorating and strengthening that the hair grows unusually thick and long. When applied to the scalp it is just as sure to produce an abundance of long, glossy hair as a little soil is to produce vegetation. It is working wonders everywhere. We guarantee that one twenty-five cent bottle will give the hair more good than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. Be sure you get the genuine, made only by The Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, 111., at 50c. and 10c. per bottle. A druggist can furnish you or will order it for you if you ask them. To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this advertisement to The Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and 10 cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

pen to the Boers and to England at the present time is for both parties to the recent treaty to fulfill all its terms to the letter. This will be the advice which the papers of the United States will give to the visiting representatives of the Transvaal and the Orange River colonies.

THAT CANAL

The administration is prosecuting with vigor and intelligence its inquiries into the title of the Panama canal company to the property which it holds, and which the United States is trying to buy. Every week or two some obstacle is turned up, but all of them thus far have been surmounted. A settlement is likely to be reached, soon, so that work in construction can be started. The popular interest in the isthmian canal matter has not lessened since congress adjourned.

The Milwaukee Journal takes great delight in talking about the sore toes of other papers throughout the state while it has not even a toe to be sore when it comes to the choice of the governor. The Journal is like the Irishman who came to this country and was asked what party he belonged to. His first question in reply was "Which one is in power?" "The republican," was the answer. "Be-gob then I am a democrat, I am agin the government."

Censure is made by the papers that have been consistent followers of the governor from the start that the true republican papers are bitter in their attack against the La Follette faction of the party. Should these same papers carefully look over their columns they would find that they, not the republican papers, are the ones that are keeping the republicans from the state getting together as a solid body once more.

Reports say that fully sixty thousand "daggers" have emigrated to Argentina during the past. Think of all the fun the little Argentinians are having with the monkeys and street pianos these cold days when coal is high and the wind bleak.

The Kansas City driver who was fined $500 for kicking a horse to death might better have bought an automobile and then he could have a thousand dollars' worth of kicking before the old thing busted.

A plan has been set forth by one of the state papers to send Champion Jeffries up against one of the operators who are so stubborn. Nice plan but then think of the awful slipperiness of those same operators and how big "Jeff" is to try and play tag.

Gold has been found in northern Wisconsin but it is not so important a find as a coal mine would be just now.

"Your Uncle Ike" is not saying much these days. He has bought a gold brick and now he is just waiting for the final test by the assayer before he sets up a roar for his money back.

When President Roosevelt issues his Thanksgiving proclamation he had best have a recipe attached to the end of it as to how the turkey can be cooked without fuel. That would be more interesting than the proclamation.

During all the excitement in Pennsylvania the great and only Pennypacker has been forgotten in the melee and now that things are quiet he will come out and start running again.

The governor of Louisiana has settled his strike with ease. Now is his chance for going into the Pennsylvania fields and making the operators to come to time quick.

The only thing not pleased with the resumption of the coal supply is the Thanksgiving turkey and he don't see any use to be thankful "n'ohow."

Of course Deacon Baer made his concessions to the "ungodly" in the full sight of the divine providence.

Kronshage vindicated the governor and now the governor has vindicated Kronshage.

General Corbin likes King Edward. He says he is a jolly, good fellow.

Still those airships are bad for the constitution.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Sentinel: General Bragg, if he wants to make whistles, will find plenty of pig tails to practice on at Hong Kong.

Milwaukee News: It is expected that Neal Brown could make a pretty hot campaign if he were turned loose on a special train.

Milwaukee Journal: For a man who has been paraded as sick for a year or so, Governor La Follette is at present doing some very lively work.

Milwaukee Wisconsin: Enough wood is disappearing in forest fires "up north" to keep all the coal-hungry people of Wisconsin warm during a number of winters.

Eau Claire Leader: The cheapest fuel in the market at present is clothes pins. A whole box of them can be had for 10 cents. Prudent housekeepers will do well to lay in a supply. They are much cheaper than coal, and are much superior in point of cleanliness. The old-fashioned pin is the best.

Denver Post: The National Postmasters' association will hold its next convention in Boston, where men of letters are always assured a hearty but dignified welcome.

Chicago Record-Herald: It is pitiful to think of the girl that will overwhelm May Yohe and her Put it really turns out at this late day that they are not legally married.

Jefferson County Union: In his speeches, Dave Rose seems to act and talk as if the people were all fools and any humbug or falsehood would be swallowed without a wink.

Green Bay Gazette: There may be no special session of congress called this fall to settle the coal miners' strike, but the regular session this winter will have the problem to deal with and the people will expect the congressmen to face it without dodging.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Pullman porters have formed an anti-tipping association. It is high time measures were taken to check the practice of forcing tips on a worthy and unassuming class of citizens.

Marion Advertiser: In the east they educate the girls how to fool some duke or titled gentleman into matrimony. In the west girls are educated so that they will know better how to earn a livelihood.

Madison Journal: The complaint comes from all portions of the state that the registration is unusually light. There is some danger to be apprehended this year to republican candidates and principles from indifference than from factionalism.

Stevens Point Journal: It was pretty cheeky in the Almond bank robbers to blow up the safe and then making their escape by stealing the president's horse and buggy. They evidently wanted to confine the transaction to one family as much as possible.

Oregon Journal: Sheriff Hopkins of Buffalo, N. Y., is extremely conservative. A rumor having been circulated to the effect that he was dead, he made a statement through the papers that the report was "exaggerated."

Milwaukee Journal: A Superior paper attempts to make a sensation out of an interview with ex-Governor Scofield, in which he is reported to have repudiated the republican state ticket. There isn't anybody in the state, unless it be that Superior editor, who imagines that Major Scofield was 'jes' dyin' to vote for La Follette.

Oshkosh Northwestern: There is just a medium of consolation in the thought that the strike will have the effect of extending the estimated limit of 140 years which the experts have told us would result in exhausting the total supply of anthracite in the Pennsylvania coal belt.

ANDREWS MAY GO FREE UNDER $100,000 BAIL

Michigan Supreme Court Fixes Amount of Security Pending Action by Recorder.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 16.—The Supreme Court has ordered that Frank C. Andrews, the convicted former vice president of the City Savings bank of Detroit, be admitted to $100,000 bail pending a decision of his motion for a new trial, which is now pending in the Recorder's court in Detroit. The court gives Andrews fifteen days in which to secure this amount. If not furnished in that time, the court says, he must be taken to Jackson prison and begin his fifteen years' sentence. Andrews is now in the Wayne county jail.

News of the court's action was promptly conveyed to Frank C. Andrews at the county jail at Detroit. "I can't furnish any such ball as that," he declared.

After thinking the matter over Andrews changed his mind and said: "I think I'll be able to furnish the ball. I still have some friends, and they'll help me. I'll make superhuman efforts to secure the necessary amount."

ENGINEER HURT BY A LEAD PENCIL

THOMAS JAMES SUFFERS FROM A PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

LEAD PENCIL INTO HIS HIP

Nearly Two Inches of the Sharp Pencil Was Imbedded in the Flesh.

Engineer Thomas James of the Milwaukee road met with a peculiar accident yesterday which has forced him to lay off for a few days. There is little probability that the injury will prove at all dangerous, but it was at first extremely painful, and it was feared that the after effects might be more serious.

Pencil Pierced Hip
As he was standing in the cab of his engine on the Mineral Point division yesterday morning a sudden movement drove a lead pencil which he was carrying in his overalls pocket into his hip. He had just finished sharpening it and the rapid movement brought the sharp point in such a position that it was driven through the clothing with considerable force into the flesh, until nearly two inches of the pencil entered the limb.

No Serious Results
While all fear of serious results was quieted as soon as it was ascertained that the point of the pencil had not been broken in the wound, and that there was no danger of blood poisoning, that knowledge did not moderate the intense pain which endured for some time. Mr. James was unable to return to his work on yesterday or today, and may be confined to the house for some days. Dr. J. B. Whiting dressed the wound.

MAKE PLANS FOR SPOONER'S VISIT

HEARTY WELCOME AWAITS WIS-
CONSIN'S FAVORITE SON.

CADETS WILL BE HIS ESCORT

United States Senator John C.
Spooner Will Speak to Immense
Audience in Janesville.

Politically all interest centers on Senator Spooner and his coming visit to Janesville on Tuesday next. Arrangements have already been made for his entertainment while in the city and for his speech at the opera house in the evening.

The county committee and many of the Senator's friends have had several meetings to arrange for the minor details of the meeting. It is expected that the senator will arrive in Janesville in the afternoon. He will be met at the depot by a committee of representative citizens and will be driven to the home of the Hon. Osgood H. Fethers whose guest he will be while in the city. After his dinner he will be escorted by the Imperial band and the Christ Church cadets under command of Captain Engelbreton, to the office of the Myers Hotel where from seven until eight he will be tendered an informal reception.

Escorted By Cadets
The services of the Christ Church cadets were tendered the county committee for the occasion and were accepted. These miniature soldiers will march with full equipment and do honor to the great man of Wisconsin. Aside from this escort will be the Imperial band who will not only furnish the music for the marching and escort duty but will also give a concert at the opera house before the speech. This will be the only music and no vocal selections will be furnished.

Senator's Health
While Chairman Nolan has received no word this morning as to the Senator's health, he was not at all alarmed at the statement in the papers that his voice had gone back on him. "This," he said today "is something that always happens to public speakers. When they have as long and as hard a speech as Senator Spooner's, they often at times have trouble with their vocal cords which makes speaking painful, but quickly passes away. I have no fears that Senator Spooner will not appear on the scheduled time."

Reception Planned
The reception as planned will be entirely informal in nature. It will be a chance for the many friends of the senator to come into a closer contact with him than they could in only hearing him speak. It is also an opportunity for persons from the surrounding country to greet him and personally express their esteem for him.

Begins At Eight
The speech will begin sharply at eight o'clock and will not be delayed at all. This is in order that it may be finished in time to give all who wish to hear him a chance to get home early. The coming of Senator Spooner to Janesville will be the crowning speech of the campaign and as he does not speak in this section of the country again, doubtless there will be many visitors from out of town present for the occasion.

What We May Come To.

An architect of New York says that with the modern steel frame a building can be carried to a height equal to seven and one-half times the diameter of the base. By this rule, on an ordinary city block could be erected a building 1,500 feet high, 500 feet higher than the Eiffel tower. It would have 125 stories and cost about $30,000,000.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. MARY BOYCE

AGED PIONEER PASSED AWAY
EARLY THIS MORNING.

WAS EIGHTY-EIGHT YEARS OLD

She Came to Wisconsin in 1846 and
Has Resided in Rock County
Ever Since.

This morning at 4:30 o'clock, Mrs. Mary M. Boyce, one of the pioneer residents of this city passed over the borderland into the rest and peace of the life eternal, her death occurring at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Loomis, 201 Washington street. Infirmities due to old age were the cause of her death, Mrs. Boyce having been in feeble health for several years. For the past year she has been confined to her bed, being cared for tenderly at the homes of her daughters, Mrs. Almeron Eager, in Evansville, and Mrs. Loomis, of this city. She has been with Mrs. Loomis since last August.

Mary M. Almy was born in Sharon, Schoharie county, N. Y., Oct. 21, 1814 and had almost completed the eighty-eighth year of her life when she was summoned from the scenes of earth. She was married to Henry Boyce, Jan. 31, 1835 and in 1846 they came west, settling in Janesville. Coming to Wisconsin in those early territorial days, Mrs. Boyce saw the growth of Rock county from the primitive conditions of pioneer times. She and her husband were prominently identified with the interests and development of the county. During the fifty six years of her residence in Wisconsin Mrs. Boyce made her home in this city and in Evansville.

Deceased was a woman of consistent Christian character and her religion manifested itself in the deeds of thoughtful service with which she filled her long and useful life. In the same year in which she came to Wisconsin, 1846, she joined the Methodist Episcopal church of this city. The church then had a membership of only eighteen or twenty people and the meetings were held in the old court house. When Court Street M. E. church was founded, she was among those who severed their connection with the old church and she was a faithful member of the Court street church from its organization until the time of her death.

Of the three daughters born to Mrs. Boyce, two are left to mourn the loss of a beloved mother. Mrs. E. E. Loomis, of this city, and Mrs. Almeron Eager, of Evansville. Mrs. Eager sorrows under a double affliction, her husband having passed away yesterday morning at 4:30 o'clock, just twenty-four hours previous to her mother's death. A remarkable coincidence marked the death of Mrs. Boyce and her husband, who died eleven years ago this month at the home of Dr. Loomis. Mr. Boyce's death was also preceded by the death of a son-in-law, Sidney Smith, passing away at his home in Evansville twelve hours before the death of Mr. Boyce.

Deceased also leaves several grandchildren, among them being, Mrs. H. H. Bliss of this city. A large circle of friends by whom Mrs. Boyce was known and loved will also mourn her death.

Funeral services will be held from the home of Dr. E. E. Loomis, 201 Washington street, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock.

Rev. J. H. Tippet, pastor of the Court Street M. E. church, will officiate and the interment will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

TEAMSTERS WIN FIGHT FOR SEATS

ATTACK ON OFFICEHOLDERS

Move to Exclude Political Appointees From the Convention Leads to a Bitter Wrangle and Defeat of the Motion.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 16.—The Chicago teamsters were seated in the Illinois State Federation of Labor convention, but not until the central organization had repudiated its own laws and those of its parent body, the American Federation. With the teamsters were recognized, state officeholders, nondescript central labor bodies, and several unions that have little standing in the labor world.

It was a pronounced victory for the Chicago delegates, but before they knew it the convention was forced to suspend business for over a day and a half.

Attack on David Ross.
In the confusion that followed the seating of the teamsters an attack was made on the Republican labor leaders who are holding places under the state administration. Four officeholders have credentials from the unions, and the credential committee, in a minority report, advised the exclusion of one of them, David Ross, secretary of the bureau of labor statistics.

"The laws of the state federation do not permit the seating of a man holding an elective or political position," said R. E. McLean of Springfield. "This being the case, I ask that David Ross be excluded."

Ryan to the Rescue.
Ross is one of the right hand men of Gov. Yates, and the attack brought out a storm of protests. President Menche saw the crisis and recognized W. D. Ryan of the mine-workers. Ryan coupled the weak cause of the officeholders with that of the teamsters and so saved them from exclusion.

"Why, I ask, is one officeholder sought out?" shouted Ryan. "There are many more here. There is G. W. Deary of the free employment bureau in Chicago. There is W. C. Boyer of the bureau of labor statistics. There is O. D. Spotts, who is head carpenter at the statehouse, and W. Scaiff of the mine inspection bureau. These are political men; one should not be singled out. Bar them all or none at all. Put their case with the other delegations contesting. We cannot afford to have a political fight."

Miners Aid Teamsters.
This was done and the fight of the teamsters reached its climax. It began to grow intensely bitter when the credential committee took it up. R. E. McLean opened the fight against the teamsters, and succeeded in having the committee vote unanimously against them. The report had been recorded and the fight seemed over with the teamsters barred out. R. H. Stearns informed W. D. Ryan of the result and a caucus between the miners and the teamsters was held. Ryan offered the aid of his organization, provided the Chicago teamsters would agree to continue with the miners and let them dominate the convention.

Use Diplomacy.
These terms were accepted and the miners hurried away to visit all the delegates on the credential committee. W. E. McManus and Joseph Pope were seen, and after hours of arguing agreed to change their votes. R. H. Stearns was roused at 2 a. m. and hurried to St. Louis. There he was feasted until morning and forgot to appear in East St. Louis and sign the committee report.

President Menche appointed the permanent committees, and their chairmen are as follows: Rules—F. L. Parker, Joliet. Constitution—A. E. Ireland, Aurora. Resolutions—W. D. Ryan, Springfield. Ways and means—C. Hanks, Chicago. Officers—Charles Robb, Chicago.

JURY'S VERDICT ON ALGRIM'S DEATH

No Blame is Attached in the Verdict—
Important Witness Could not be Found.

"That he came to his death accidentally by being run over by a train of the C. & N. W. railway, known as No. 507," was the verdict arrived at by the inquest which was held before Justice Reeder this morning, to inquire into the death of Fred Ahlgrim, who was killed on Wednesday morning about a mile north of the depot. The witnesses were called before the jury in C. W. Reeder's Justice of the Peace court at 9:30, and the decision was rendered after about a half dozen witnesses had been called.

New Points of Interest
The main facts brought out from the questioning adhered closely to those already given in Wednesday's Gazette, but several additional points of interest were elicited which make it more inexplicable than ever how the engineer on the train overlooked the hand car, and the occupants of the latter were unaware of the approach of the train.

Should Have Seen Train
According to the testimony, the track for nearly a mile is so straight that the men on the hand car who were facing in that direction could not have failed to see the engine if they had looked. The same would have been true of those on the engine. They had been barely a minute in going around the curve when the train was noticed by Foreman Stampe, so that the approach of the latter should have been seen at a distance before the curve was rounded.

Beyond Speed Limit
Moreover the testimony of the engineer and the fireman showed that the bell had been ringing constantly and continued to do so. It was not a place where the running orders called for a whistle blast. While no comment was made on the fact by the jury, an interesting point was brought out in the statement of those on the engine that the train was running at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour. The accident took place within the city limits, and there is a statute speed limit of twelve miles an hour.

Paralyzed in Danger
When the train was first noticed the hand car was on a bridge over a gully thirty feet deep. The car was pumped across to the other side and then stopped. All who saw the accident agreed that there was time for Ahlgrim to escape, but that he seemed unable to do so. Mr. Stampe said in this connection, that he had since the accident talked with Ahlgrim's former foreman, who said that while Ahlgrim was an industrious and capable workman any moment of excitement had the effect of rendering him temporarily paralyzed.

Witness Missing
August Stampe, the foreman of the gang; William Smith and Fred Baumann, two of the men on the hand car; W. H. Clark and C. J. Holden, both of Baraboo, the engineer and fireman of the train; and Fred Saloff, the son-in-law of the deceased were among the witnesses called. Fred Zabel, the man who had been standing by the side of Ahlgrim on the hand-car, looking toward the approaching train, could not be found. He was the man whose testimony would have been as valuable as any, because he and Ahlgrim were expected to keep sharp watch in that direction. The other men in the gang said that none of them had seen Zabel since he came down to the station from the scene of the accident yesterday morning.

FATAL COLLISION
AT REELSVILLE, IND.

Two Men Are Killed and Six Are Seriously Injured Through Operator's Error.

Greencastle, Ind., Oct. 15.—The fast westbound passenger train No. 21 on the Vandalla railroad and No. 8, the Terre Haute and Indianapolis accommodation train, collided at Reelsville, eight miles west of here, killing two men and seriously injuring several others.

The dead: James Hermisen, G. D. Kilby.

The injured: Jesse Kennedy, W. L. Boyd, J. J. Traub, Edward Rife, Albert C. Hedding, George Likert.

As far as can be ascertained the cause of the wreck was due to the failure of the agent at Harmony to deliver an order to No. 8, which left there on No. 21's time. When the trains collided they were both going at full speed. The engines and two front cars were telescoped, almost completely burying the engines.

The eastbound train contained a number of delegates to the state convention here of the Woman's Federation of Clubs, but the passengers escaped serious injury.

Singular Coincidences.
Twice in his long military service of forty years has the number nineteen figured prominently in the life of Col. Edmund Rice of the United States army. Back in the sixties, when he won his medal of honor at Gettysburg, he was in command of the old Nineteenth Massachusetts, which he brought home. He has recently won his star as colonel of regulars and is now in command of the Nineteenth Infantry, which will be stationed at Royal Island, San Francisco.

Cause of Steampipe Explosions.
Many steampipe explosions are due to water-hammer action. A plug of water only six inches long propelled by only two feet, under a pressure of fifteen pounds can exert a pressure of 4,400 pounds on being suddenly stopped.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 16.—The returns from Madison county, the last county in the state to report, were received by the state board of equalization. The assessment for 1902 reaches a grand total of $921,752,800, which is a net increase over the assessment of 1901 of $29,916,271. In Cook county alone $23,530,033 is shown. Kankakee county is second, with an increase of $1,418,344. In Perry county the increase is $467,540, and in Lake county $407,985. In only twenty-nine counties is a decrease shown, while in seventy-three counties the total is an increase over previous years. In Will county the decrease is $732,360 and in La Salle county it is $373,131. After completing its assessment report the board did not adjourn, as customary, but remained here for committee work. At the meeting of the capital stock committee it was announced that seventy-five of the Cook county corporations had been disposed of. The committee declined to make public the values that have been extended against these corporations, asserting that they are subject to revision.
